Whitney holds a Master of Public Policy from Georgia State University and works as a grants manager at a social services nonprofit. Her husband, Brad, is a Health Scientist at the Centers for Disease Control. Both have a proud history of community and government service, including serving overseas in the US Peace Corps. In her spare time, Whitney enjoys gardening, jewelry making, and current events. Whitney has previously served as the LRSCA Treasurer and as Chair of the Road Infrastructure Committee. As Vice President, Whitney would like to focus on social events and rebuilding our membership post-COVID.
